Loading Props & Equipment in the Staging Van or a vehicle

Some vehicles have tinted windows.Â Some of the windows in the storage compartment of the vehicle has been protected by a thick black rubber carpet and gate fences to prevent props and equipment from scratching the windows.

It is the responsibility of everyone loading and unloading the assets from the staging vehicle or vehicle.Â At no stage should any prop or equipment be touching or leaning against a window.Â All items should be stacked and loaded safely into the staging van or vehicle and where nearest a glass window.

Under no circumstances should any item, unharnessed be placed in the passenger area of the vehicle.Â It is illegal to have an item placed in the passenger section of the vehicle unharnessed.Â All Assets should be placed in the storage area of the vehicle, behind the cargo barrier.Â Injuries or damage to props or persons because items were not properly placed in the correct place will be the responsibility of the Independent Contractor.
