

Chauffeur Etiquette and VIP Chauffeur Etiquette.

Updated 14 Sept 2020 12:53 by @greg.paff

1. From the Executive Meeting last Friday to go with the times of the language used currently the term "master" for CCRPs under the age of 16 are now
  1. to be referred to as "young man" if the CCRP is male
  2. to be referred to as "young lady" if the CCRP is female.
  3. The term "master" is obsolete.
2. Ladies and gentlemen could now be replaced with "Folks". The term "Ladies" or "Gentlemen" can still be used.
3. If there is a mix of woman and man in the group the term "Folks" is adequate.

Whether you are a contractor or employee of Iconic (the company) you are required, as an allocated Iconic Chauffeur to always remain professional, courtesy and honorable in all your dealings with a CCRP (know as Customer, Client, Rider, Passenger or PAX). The high standard of Iconic Chauffeur's is a precedence not seen in many chauffeured or transport driven companies. Therefore as an Iconic Chauffeur you must always maintain the high standard of the Iconic Brand and maintain the goodwill of the company brand.

In addition to the high standard the company prides itself on to be a professional chauffeur there is a set etiquette that is required from you to be and continue to be an Iconic Chauffeur. Failure to maintain and behave with the etiquette of an Iconic Chauffeur would result in your termination of being allocated an Iconic Chauffeur. It is imperative that you understand, acknowledge and behave with the etiquette of an Iconic Chauffeur to always stand proud of the work you do, the experience the PAX receives and the goodwill of the company brand.

While all Iconic CCRPs are to receive the same treatment, VIP customers do receive additional service and support. For the extra special service etiquette for VIP or Tier 5 CCRPs click here.

6. If the PAX is waiting outside for you and you are approaching, you do not need to get out of the car to open their door, but ensure that where you stop is safe to do so.
  1. If you arrive at the pickup location and the PAX is not present, exit the car (ensure the vehicle gears are in park and park-brake is activated), take your mobile phone with you and wait on the rear passenger door of the vehicle for the PAX. Do not wait for the PAX sitting in the vehicle.
7. If the PAX has baggage/luggage/goods that need to be placed in the boot, always place the vehicle gears in Park, activate the Park-Brake - Refer to the company FAQ policy on luggage or items the CCRP needs to put into the trunk/boot of the vehicle. 4. Follow the map directions 99% of the time, but always pre-plan your route and look ahead where safe to do so.
  1. The maps used can sometimes be inaccurate and take you down a no-through road or to a road that does not allow you to turn in the correct direction. This can sometimes infuriate the CCRP. If this occurs, excuse yourself with the customer and inform them of the occurrence, however you will do your best to correct the route. If they question the map, inform the customer that the route is designed to find the quickest and most efficient route as it monitors traffic and road incidences, but that you will do your best to improve the journey.
  2. If the CCRP wishes to direct you then this is acceptable and allowable, however you must never ask them to direct you. If the CCRP directs the route you are still required to have the map running to log your travels for company records.
5. Do not stop in the middle of an intersection if there is traffic on the other end. This can be very worrying for a CCRP if you are in the middle of an intersection and lights turn red.

2. Arrive at the set allocated drop off address or pin location. Try to always be on the correct side to avoid the PAX having to cross the road. If you notice you are on the wrong side, ask the PAX if they would like you to turn around to the other side. If the answer is YES by the PAX, make sure you do this in a safe and legal way.
3. Do not dropoff the customer to another location, unless it is recorded in the software and you have received the update. If they request to be dropped off at another location, respectfully decline and inform the customer for that this is for the safety and security of all persons)

6. Always dropoff the PAX in a safe and legal place on the road/street.
  1. Do not drive into a PAX driveway, pathway or homestead. We provide a kerb to kerb service and if a customer asks, inform them for the safety and security of all persons it is company policy to drop-off at the kerb. There are exceptions to this rule and needs to be monitored on a job to job basis.
7. You do not need to get out of the vehicle if after asking if they wish to have the door opened, they PAX replies with No. If the PAX replies with YES, follow company policy on opening a door for a PAX.
  1. If a PAX is exiting from the rear right passenger door, check the side mirror and inform the customer if it is safe to open the door and exit.
8. Always activate your vehicle emergency lights (hazards) when you are approximately 50 metres from the dropoff location. This helps other road users know that the vehicle is slowing down and a PAX is likely to exit. After the PAX has exited, ensure you turn off your emergency lights.

1. For the safety of you, the PAX and other road users, you must always have your emergency lights on when the passenger is exiting the vehicle or when you are approximately 50 metres from the dropoff location.
2. Do not turn off your emergency lights until the PAX is exited, doors are closed and you are ready to proceed to the next duration.

13. Check the vehicle is clean for the next PAX.

Other Chauffeur Etiquette:

Question re update of today Sep 14. If CCRP is female and school girl identified through uniform, age not possible to confirm, do we still use term "young lady"

a. answered 14-Sep-2020 15:50 by @greg.paff

a. This question is already answered by school girl identified. I do not think it matters. Young Lady or Lady it is a school girl. Use your judgement of what is better.

Question: is it acceptable in current "Covid 19" situation to reciprocate if CCRP offers either "elbow" or "knuckles" as a gesture of handshake?

Question: what does chauffeur respond if CCRP requests volume to be louder than 12% on radio?

a. answered by @steve.baltzois 12-Aug-2020 21:06

a. With regards to the elbow and knuckles in placement of the handshake, this would be acceptable as it is what the current government and health authorities is the best way to still show the same social etiquette.
b. If a CCRP asks for the music volume to increase, you as a chauffeur oblige the CCRPs request. It is not illegal to have the music louder than the background volume of 6-8. As long as it is safe to do so as this would be a per incident call of judgement a chauffeur would need to do, or if ever unsure you would request approval from your channel or department supervisor and you would inform your CCRP that for the safety of everyone you would need to seek approval, if you felt the request was unsafe.

Questions.

1) Usually a "master" i.e. Child will enter the vehicle with one or more adult. At what stage in Sniff is "The Master" greeted 1st, 2nd or last?

2) What do you do if CCRP requests you to make a U-Turn or 3 point turn?

a. answered 13-Jun-2020 00:15 by @steve.baltzois

a. The master is always greeted last in order of rank/seniority. The paying customer would be the adult and they must be saluted first.
b. It is not the safest thing to do with a CCRP in the vehicle and nearly 99% of the time when a CCRP asks they will not be able to see if the dividing road lines permit this. The first thing to do would be to check that you are permitted to do this legally and it is safe to do so. Inform the CCRP it is not the safest thing to do to make a U-Turn and that you would recommend turning into the next nearest street on the right or driveway and reverse out. If the CCRP still wants the U-Turn and it is safe to do so proceed to do this following all road laws and the SAFETY ALWAYS FIRST policy.

A question then from my own reference and retraining. I know all iconic policy and for chauffeurs is that males are addressed always as "sir" in a case like this where the ccrp has formally advised that he would rather be referred to by his Christian name would I respect this in all future dealings with this ccrp? Knowing of course it would be preceded with "Mr".

1. Answered by steve.baltzois Apr 16 2020 at 13:32

1. This is correct, we always refer to them as Sir/Madam and if the CCRP requests otherwise we then acknowledge that request and maintain that request at all times with the CCRP until the CCRP advises otherwise. We always remain professional. No matter how long you know the CCRP especially if they are regular customers, they are not ever your friend or family member. They are an Iconic Customer and must be treated professionally in all business related dealings when you are working under the Iconic Brand for work related purposes. Never cross the line of professional to friend as an Iconic Worker with any Iconic Customer, associate, contact or CCRP.
