

Deposits for Events, shows and products

Most of Iconic's events, shows and products require a deposit. Where a deposit is required, the amount for the deposit will be displayed on the Order section.

Deposits are often calculated as a percentage of the total cost of the event, however some items may just be an amount required.

Please note that deposits are not the same for every order and it should be checked before quoting it to the customer.

Please note that deposit amounts are often rounded up to the nearest multiple and so the customer should be told the amount of the deposit required and not the percentage. The percentage is only a figure used to calculate the amount and the amount is rounded up to make it the nearest whole dollar multiple.

The deposit amount and/or the percentage of the total amount will be shown in 3 different locations.

LOCATION 1:

In the product availability page after selecting your product it will show the deposit amount or percentage required.

Example:

By completing the Product Price Check in the product availability page it will then display the total amount for the deposit required.
